ENCOUNTERED A HURRICANE

Rough Voyage of Schooner City of Augusta Halifaa lob lo the big three asted schooner (ity of Augusta (apt dama from Wiscasset, Me bound to Washington D C , put into Barrington liay on the west doast of Nova Scotia, leduesday night, after a trying en counter with the recent storms. It was usade the crew say, and that they came through alive is in their opinion little ess than a salracle Shortly after clearing the Maine coast a hurricane was encountered and before the sails could be taken in and secured several of them were blown away. The echooner was then land to but the and labored heavily causing her to leak, the purops had then to be manned and this gave additional work to the almost exhausted crew who were also all more or less frost butten. I wice she tried to make Boston but each time met with fresh gales and was blown off again The second time this occurred a genuine burricane was experienced and the ves sel was compelled to run before it under bare poles. While thus flying before the wind huge waves would board her over the stern threatening to sweep ber, and the water as soon as it struck the deck became ice, the weather being very cold When the gale moderated it was found that she had run within a few ulles of Cape Sable Island one of the most dangerous spots on the coast. The chooner at one time had nine feet of water in her hold | The City of Augusta will proceed to either Larmouth or Halifax for repairs

The Farmers' Losses

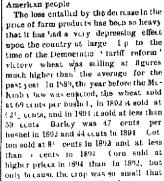

The fact that the exports of American products in 1894 amounted to a value far below that of any recent year leads the Boston Advertiser to say: The claim of the Republican party that the inangura tion of Democratic tariff reform would be accompanied or followed by a de crease in the price of American product and a decrease in the wages paid to the producer, has been all too plainly borne out by the developments which have attended the work of the Democratic party in changing the tariff; and the experiment of allowing the Democratic leaders to tinker with the American customs laws has proved to be one of the most unfortunate mistakes ever made by the American people
